ABOUT ME

Anas Odeh is a professional programmer mainly focused on web development, he believes in the idea of special and creative programing.

EDUCATING PEOPLE IN CODING

In the past two years I have been working really hard on providing and educating people in programming / coding through social media and platforms like YouTube, Instagram and TikTok. I was able to teach many people and play a big role in their programming careers through helpful tutorials in many programming fields.

FUTURE GOALS & AIMS

In my opinion, a non ambitious person is like a dead plant. That is why we as humans need to have future goals and aims to improve and enhance our creativity and experience. I am looking forward to level up my programming skills to reach a high-professional level, even if I had to improve at least 1% a day. As a content creator I also have the aiming to teach more people how to code and have big social media profiles.
